McKINLEY TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

SECOND AND T STREETS, NORTHEAST

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20002

ABOVE: Pamela Merritt perfects her makeup.
BELOW: Arleta Jones sings "Send in the Clowns."

Miss McKinley and her court light up Homecoming.

Ms. Constance Mitchell receives a gift from Shari Carpenter.

Clyde Penn and Carol Thomas represent the senior class.

The senior class hearse highlights the Homecoming parade.

Kenny Wright searches for a receiver.

Tech defense stifles Dunbar.

Mrs. Mary Brown, senior class administrator, boogies with Clyde Penn, senior class president.

"Who will be crowned Miss McKinley?" "Will we win today?" Will anybody go to the dance now that they have changed the day and time AGAIN?"

Homecoming '79 was definitely unpredictable!

Gaye Collins was a refreshing surprise as she sang her way to the top of the judges' scoring sheets, endearing herself to all Techites.

Alas, if the football game had been just as delightful a surprise as Gaye Collins! Dunbar, however, would not get into that long, lovely, sleek hearse. The final score was 6 - 0.

The dance at George Washington's Marvin Center did lift our spirits as we got off to the electrifying sounds of Soul Formula.

DEDICATED

ONES

Dr. Liggins proudly contemplates his many accomplishments.

Teachers have voted to go on strike tomorrow. Distinguished visitors have just telephoned; they will be over to tour the CBC Prototype High School later today. A fight has just exploded on the third floor. HELP!

Responding to unforeseen problems was Dr. Athel Q. Liggins' forte this year. He often found rough waters during the voyage of the year, but somehow he skillfully sailed through the storms.

Not only did Dr. Liggins demonstrate skill in handling almost daily crises, but he also garnered high marks for long-range planning. He implemented the CBC Prototype High School, the Teacher Appraisal Project, and the Superintendent's directives on the inclusion of new courses and special programs.

One of Dr. Liggins' principal goals was to inform those inside and outside of Tech of the many educational opportunities that the school provided. As the Middle States Evaluation revealed, McKinley was no average urban high school, but a highly sophisticated learning center, geared to the needs of students of wide-ranging abilities, including those seeking college-preparatory instruction equal to that afforded to students in suburban and private schools.

ADMINISTRATORS

Isaac Jackson

Willa Johnson

Mary Brown

Tech's administrators, led by Dr. Liggins, prepared to meet all anticipated happenings, including the Middle States Evaluation, CBC, and TAP.

Unpredictable events still cropped up. Mrs. Brown, principal pro tempore, was always ready to stand in for Dr. Liggins. Mr. Jackson quickly filled out all requisition cards, as Mr. Brown rearranged the auditorium seating for a special assembly. Mrs. Johnson met a barrage of attendance inquiries, while Mr. Rubin answered any unexpected correspondence before they, unexpectedly, were appointed to new jobs: Mrs. Johnson at Paul Junior High School and Mr. Rubin in the Office of the Superintendent.

Teachers Strike in Defiance of Court, but Schools Remain Open

*Teachers' Viewpoints
Mixed On Effects
Walkout Will Have*

Unpredictability epitomized the second semester of school. Sudden blizzards closed Tech for four days in February and virtually froze our education.

Along with the thaw in the weather came a heating up of the conflict between the Washington Teachers' Union and the Board of Education. The dispute reached the boiling point when most of our teachers went on strike on March 6.

The effects of the days lost because of the snow and the prolonged strike cannot be calculated. How much education did the Class of '79 lose? What knowledge and skills will we lack when we enter college or the job market? The answer is . . .

UNPREDICATBLE.
